

Hepatitis B Screening and Management

Hepatitis B (Hep B) is a blood borne virus infection which is increasing in prevalence in Australia. Hep B screening and management was identified by the Central and Eastern Sydney Primary Health Network (CES PHN) as a key area for improving health outcomes in their PHN catchment. CAT4's Hep B Screening and Management module was developed to allow clinicians to easily identify patients with risk factors for screening and follow-up patients with Hep B diagnosis for management and review.

A number of resources are available, including a detailed mapping guide and a quick reference guide.
