Foxo App

In Australia, inefficiencies relating to communication issues can cost the average GP over $57,000 per year, contribute to 30% of total malpractice claims, and up to 70% of hospital incidents.

The new Foxo App, developed by Foxo, has launched on Topbar, which will enable healthcare organisations with easy access to encrypted, real-time communication and referral tools. This will enable your practice to conduct secure instant messaging, video calls, referrals, and bookings.

FREE for all general practices and Aboriginal Medical Services across Australia with an active Topbar licence.
